

Microsoft CRM Technical Consultant, jp 17777

Description:

My client is a top South African Consultancy focusing on BI/EDW and CRM delivery within the custom solutions space. They currently need strong Technical Consultants with good CRM experience to work on new projects for big clients. The technology you've used previously is important, but what is also important is that you come from a methodology reliant past with formal process experience on enterprise projects.

What does my client offer?

Complex project work on big projects, they are a leader in their field and tend to be able to pick and choose what projects they take on. They are partner to one of the biggest technology companies in the world and tend to play in the "cutting edge" space. They have an awesome attitude to training and will commit to your career advancement and growth within their structures (assuming you're performing!!). Lastly good packages, competitive with any other company in their space, they will offer you what you're worth and tend not too try to "pinch pennies" when faced with a high calibre Candidate.

What do they need?

Some sort of formal qualification ideally in a relevant space - completed Degrees, National Diplomas etc...

Min of 5 years commercial technical experience ideally in similar environments to the description above.

Some Systems Analysis and design experience.

Knowledge of C#.NET, ASP.NET, SQL Server.

A general understanding of MS architecture, networks and/or security.

Experience with the major CRM packages - SAP, Oracle, Siebel, Salesforce, Amdocs, MS Dynamics CRM, HEAT, Goldmine, Sales Logix, Sage, Onyx etc...

Minimum 2 years CRM implementation experience.

The "nice to haves":

MS CRM certified or MCSD/MCDBA.

Any MS Dynamics CRM, Axapta, Navision, Great Plains experience advantageous.

Business Intelligence or Enterprise Data Warehousing experience.

Any Project Management experience.

Permanent role. Based in Sandton/Bryanston - Johannesburg. They will realistically pay anything between R300K and R550 Bryanston
